LA PISTA MAGICA - LA PIZZA MAGICA

Hundreds of thousands have been making the pilgrimage to Monza since 1922. They go to witness greatness and glory. Sometimes horror. Sitting in the stands, some hanging in trees, they watch Ferrari, Alfa Romeo, Fiat and Lotus run wild along 6.25 miles of sexy twists and turns. Monza is an Italian super speedway forever etched in racing history. Catapulting drivers into heroes. From La Pista Magica – the magic track – comes our authentic, Neapolitan style pizza.

In keeping with strict Neapolitan standards, our dough is made using imported San Felice wheat flour, natural Neapolitan yeast, filtered and ph balanced water then kneaded with a mixer imported from Naples. Our pizza is baked in a wood fired oven at 1000 degrees resulting in a thin crispy crust, topped with fiore di latte mozzarella, and fresh local ingredients whenever possible. Rev it up for Monza.

EMILIO MATERASSI

Launching his career at Italian hill climbing races, he was involved in the deadliest wreck in the history of Monza. He and 27 race fans were killed on September 9, 1928.

6

ALBERTO "CICCIO" ASCARI

The first great Ferrari driver and one of only two Italian Formula One world champions. His jerky driving style unnerved fellow racers. Fans nicknamed him "Ciccio," which means "tubby."

19

JUAN MANUEL FANGIO

Fangio did not start racing Formula One until he was 37 years old. He won 24 of the 51 Formula One races he started. A five-time world champion, some say he was the greatest driver ever.

7

FELICE NAZZARO

In 1907, at the age of 26, Felice Nazzaro was considered the greatest driver in the world. He was known as a cagey driver that hung in the back of the pack, then used his effortless and immaculate technique to pounce on the leaders.

VOLPINI

The early 1950's creation of Gianpaolo Volpini, these Formula Junior cars were built around Fiat engines. In 1955 the car ran its first and only F1 race.

27

COUNT LOUIS ZBOROWSKI

Driver and designer of the world famous "Chitty Bang Bang". He loved trains and had a miniature railway built around his estate.

5

RONNIE PETERSON

The son of a baker and a true speed demon, Peterson was nicknamed "Super Swede." Ronnie's racing mission was to annihilate the competition. His fans loved him for that.

VANWALL SPECIAL

An F1 car developed by Tony Vandervell that debuted in 1954. They had 2.0 L Norton engines. The Vanwall ran till 1961.

22

GIUSEPPE CAMPARI

Campari was a beloved fan-favorite. His 3 loves were opera, food & racing. One of the beefiest drivers in the sport and he was also an opera singer.

40

WOLFGANG VON TRIPS

The German count nicknamed "Taffy" was a dashing young Robert Redford look-a-like with a reputation for driving his Ferrari 156 in an erratic fashion.
